1 of heroin. Mr. Gomez contacted co-defendant Emmanuel Bautista who arranged to obtain the heroin from a source of supply. Further, the government contends that Mr. Rines borrowed a car from a friend in Portland, Oregon and traveled with co-defendant Paul Michael Padilla from Portland, Oregon to San Diego, California for the purpose of purchasing heroin. The government alleges Mr. Rines was with Mr. Padilla shortly before Mr. Padilla met with the heroin source of supply (believed to be an informant/cooperating witness) carrying a bag containing $96,000 in cash.

In a post-arrest statement Mr. Rines denied knowledge of the drug deal, and has entered a not-guilty plea.

The government has produced 20 pages of discovery, and three compact discs (photos, video surveillance footage, and a recording).

MOTION TO COMPEL DISCOVERY/PRESERVE EVIDENCE

Pursuant to the Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, Rules 12 and 16 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure, Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963), 18 U.S.C. 3500 (the Jenks Act), Mr. Rines moves the Court for an order compelling further discovery, and for the preservation of evidence. This motion includes all discovery in the possession, custody or control of the government, and of which the government attorney may become aware through the exercise of due diligence. See Fed. R. Crim. P. 16. discovery motion includes, but is not limited to, the following:

The Defendant's Statements. All written or recorded (1) $26\,\|$ statements, any written record containing the substance of any oral statements, any written summaries of his oral statements, and the $28\,\|$ handwritten notes of any government agents who took notes of such

1 statements, and any response to Miranda warnings. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(A).

- Arrest Reports, Notes and Surveillance. All arrest reports, notes, dispatch or any other tapes that relate to the circumstances surrounding the defendant's arrest and/or questioning. This request includes, but is not limited to, any rough notes, records, reports, transcripts, or other documents which contain statements of the defendant or any other discoverable material. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(A); Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). The government must produce arrest reports, investigator's notes, memos from arresting officers, dispatch tapes, sworn statements, and prosecution reports pertaining to the defendant. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(B) and (C); Fed. R. Crim. P. 26.2 and 12(i).
- The Defendant's Prior Record. The defendant requests (3) disclosure of his prior record. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(B).
- Evidence Seized. The defendant requests production of (4)evidence seized as a result of any search, either warrantless or with a warrant. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(C).
- Tangible Objects. The defendant requests the (5) $20\, vert$ opportunity to inspect and copy as well as test, if necessary, all other documents and tangible objects, including photographs, books, papers, documents, alleged narcotics, fingerprint analyses, vehicles, or copies of portions thereof, which are material to the defense or intended for use in the government's case or were obtained from or belong to him. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(C).
- Request for Preservation of Evidence. The defendant (6) $27\,\|$ specifically requests the preservation of all physical evidence that $28\, vert$ may be destroyed, lost, or otherwise put out of the possession,

1 custody, or care of the government and which relate to the arrest or the events leading to the arrest in this case. This request includes, but is not limited to, the results of any fingerprint analysis, the alleged controlled substance, vehicles, the defendant's personal effects, and any other evidence seized from the defendant or any other party.

- Expert Witnesses. The defendant requests the name, $13 \parallel$ qualifications, and a written summary of the testimony of any person that the government intends to call as an expert witness during its case. Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(E). The defendant requests that the Court order disclosure of this discovery at least four weeks prior to trial in order so the defendant may perform follow-up investigation, prepare in limine motions in a timely manner, and prepare for trial.
- Brady Material. The defendant requests all documents, (9) $20\,\mathrm{\parallel statements}$, agents' reports, and tangible evidence favorable to the defendant on the issue of quilt, which affects the credibility of the government's case, or which may result in a lower sentence under the United States Sentencing Guidelines. Under Brady, impeachment as well as exculpatory evidence falls within the definition of evidence favorable to the accused. United States v. Bagley, 473 U.S. 667 (1985); United States v. Agurs, 427 U.S. 97 (1976).
- 27 (10)Giglio Information. The defendant requests all $28\,\|$ statements and/or promises, express or implied, made to any government

1 witnesses in exchange for their testimony in this case, and all other information which could arguably be used for the impeachment of any government witnesses. Giglio v. United States, 405 U.S. 150 (1972).

- (11)Henthorn Material. The defendant requests that the government examine the personnel files of all government agents in this action for Brady material. United States v. Herring, 83 F.3d 1120 (9th Cir. 1996).
- (12)Informants and Cooperating Witnesses. The defendant requests disclosure of the name(s), address(es), and location(s) of all informants or cooperating witnesses used or to be used in this case, and in particular, disclosure of any informant who was a percipient witness in this case or otherwise participated in the crime charged against the defendant. Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 52, 61-62 The government must disclose any information derived from informants which exculpates or tends to exculpate the defendant. Brady v. Maryland, 373 U.S. 83 (1963). The government must disclose any information indicating bias on the part of any informant or cooperating Id. The defendant submits further authority on this issue infra.
- Jencks Act Material. The defendant requests production (13)at least four weeks in advance of trial of all material, including dispatch tapes, which the government must produce pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3500. Advance production will avoid the possibility of delay at the request of defendant to investigate the Jencks material.
- Any Proposed 404(b) Evidence. The defendant requests (14) $26\,\|$ prior notice of any other acts that the government intends to introduce $27\,\|$ in its case-in-chief, through impeachment, or in its rebuttal case. $28\,$ Fed. R. Crim. P. 16(a)(1)(C); Fed. R. Evid. 404(b) and 609(b); United

1 States v. Vega, 188 F.3d 1150 (9th Cir. 1999). The defendant requests that the Court order disclosure of this discovery at least four weeks prior to trial in order to investigate it, to prepare in limine motions in a timely manner, and to prepare adequately for trial.

THE GOVENMENT MUST REVEAL THE IDENTITY OF ANY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANTS

Due process requires disclosure of the identity of confidential informant(s)/cooperating witness(es). Roviaro v. United States, 353 U.S. 53, 60-61 (1957); United States v. Ramirez-Rangel, 103 11 F.3d 1501, 1505 (9th Cir. 1997); United States v. Ordonez, 737 F.2d 793, 809 (9th Cir. 1984). "Where the disclosure of an informant's identity, or the contents of his communication, is relevant and helpful to the defense of an accused, or is essential to a fair determination of a cause," the government must disclose the information. Rovario, 353 $16 \parallel \text{U.S.}$ at 60-61. If the government withholds this information, the action may be dismissed. Id.

Under Roviaro, this Court must balance the government's interest in protecting the flow of information about illegal activity against the accused's right to prepare a defense to the charges. Roviaro, 353 U.S. at 62; Ramirez-Rangel, supra. To prevail in disclosure, the accused must show that the testimony of the witness will prove "relevant and helpful, or [is] essential to a fair trial." $^{24}\parallel$ Ramirez-Rangel, 103 F.3d 1505 (quoting United States v. Amador-Galvan, $25\,\parallel$ 9 F.3d 1414, 1417 (9th Cir. 1993)) (internal quotations omitted). $26\,$ Although, courts require more than a "suspicion" on the part of the accused, see e.g., Ramirez-Rangel, the Rovario standard is identical to $28\,$ the "reasonable probability" standard under <code>Brady</code> and its progeny. To 1 evaluate whether the accused has met the threshold showing for revelation of the witnesses under due process and Rovario, this Court must consider the particular facts and circumstances of this case, as well as the crime charged, the possible defenses, the possible significance of the witnesses's testimony, and other relevant factors. Roviaro, supra, Ordonez, 737 F.2d at 808.

This case clearly involves at least one confidential informant - the "source" of the alleged heroin. This person played a key role in the alleged conspiracy, as a percipient witness. The government, however, has not provided any information about him. government must reveal his identity and whereabouts. Roviaro, 353 U.S. at 64 (disclosure required where informant participant in charged transaction). government must reveal the identity of the witnesses even if they are not percipient witnesses to the acts alleged in the indictment because the witnesses may provide information which might lead to other sources of information relevant or helpful to the defense. Amador-Galvan, 9 F.3d at 1417.

The government does not satisfy its obligation by merely disclosing the identity and location of the confidential witnesses. 20 The government has the duty to produce the witnesses or to show that despite reasonable efforts it was not able to do so. United States v. LaRizza, 72 F.3d 775, 779 (9th Cir. 1995); United States v. Montgomery, 23 998 F.2d 1468, 1472-1473 (9th Cir. 1992).

In a conspiracy case such as this where the witnesses $25\,\mathrm{participated}$ in the alleged offense, the testimony of any cooperating $26\,\|$ witnesses is vital to the defense. Even if the government has no $27\,\|$ reason to call the witnesses to testify, the defense may wish to call $28\,\|$ them to provide favorable testimony. Accordingly, the defendant

1 requests that the Court permit defense counsel to question any cooperating witnesses before trial. See United States v. Hernandez, 608 F.2d 741 (9th Cir. 1979); United States Bower, 575 F.2d 499 (9th Cir. 1978).

In Callahan v. United States, 371 F.2d 658 (9th Cir. 1957), the court held that both the defense and the prosecution had the right to interview witnesses before trial, and that exceptions to such rules were justifiable only by the clearest and most compelling circumstances. It is beyond dispute that witnesses to a crime are the property of neither the prosecution nor the defense, and that both sides have an equal right to interview them and should have an equal opportunity to do so.
